

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, May 3

2000

Marshall welcomes military visitors Wednesday

Representatives from the United Kingdom, U.S. Navy, U.S. Air Force and U.S. Army will visit Marshall Wednesday. The group will visit the Productivity Enhancement Complex and tour the East/West Test Areas.

Medical Center offering blood pressure screenings to all employees in May

Savings Bond kickoff ceremony 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Morris Auditorium

NASA creates new office to foster health and safety

Dr. Arnauld Nicogossian will lead NASA's newly created health office as chief health and medical officer. The new office will increase the Agency's emphasis on health and safety on the ground and in space. Nicogossian will continue to serve as associate administrator for life and microgravity sciences and applications until his replacement is named.

Project implementation class set June 19-23 at Marshall

A project implementation class will be June 19-23 at Marshall. The class focuses on executing a baselined project using NASA program and management systems requirements. For information, call 544-8864.

Marshall Open House 9 a.m.-6 p.m. May 20